Special to The Tribune. OGDEN, Utah, May 25.-At II o'clock tenight John Donnellan, who lives in the Boyle block on Washington avenue, came roshing out and accosted Superintendent Flygare of the Rapid Transit company, stating that a murder had been committed at the rear of the building. The police were telephoned for, and Sergt Barlow Wilson and Officers Eggieston and Richard Pluccock responded. A rush was made up the status and admission was demanded into the rooms. A colored man on the outside refused the officers the privilege to enter, and explained that the colored Elles were conducting an initiation. Donnellan had heard the remark, "Kill him with an axe." It was repeated, and then he heard two shots and a grean, and believed that a murder had been committed. There were no arrests. Another little police story. stating that a murder had been com-

Memorial Day Benefit.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 25.—The appearance at the Memorial day benefit to be given by the G. A. E. Monday evening at the Methodist cleurch of Miss Lookse Williams of Augusta, Ga., the daughter of a Confederate veteran, is a splendid tribute to the old heroes who after the bitterness of war stand ready to close the guilt and class hands in fraternal union between the blue and the gray. The entertainment will be for the benefit of the old soldiers, and the programme will be a popular one. Miss Williams will give interpretations of usgro dialegt as studied by her from the quaint darky characters who live around the old Williams homestead at Augusta, Gs. To those who have not had the pleasure of hearing Miss Williams this feature of the Special to The Tribune.

FOUND PLACE TO STOP. John Johnson, a Russian, Breaks Into County Jail.

Special to The Tribune. Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Utah, May 26.—John Johnson, a Russian, who claimed to be a Finiander, broke into the county full this afternoon. He said he wanted a place to stop, and was accummodated. He was in a demented condition, and had a receipt for poll tax paid at Beno, New. Other records found on him showed that he had recently been working for the Sait Lake Route at Black Bock, Utah. The officers regard him as heing insane, and as further evidence they site the fact that he paid poll tax in Nevada.

noid State Bar association at the Chicago Beach hotel today on "The Lawyer in Public Affairs" Judge Parker was greeted by hearty applause. After returning thanks for the cordial welcome accorded him, he said in closing:

"I would emphasize anew the thought that, as the lawyer finds himself the beneficiary and the heir of great privileges which yield commanding opportunities, it is more incumbent upon him than upon any other to recognize that these privileges and powers impose obligations from which there can be no escape, as, indeed, there ought not to be, except by meeting and welcoming them in the completest sense possible. If, at any time it shall become apparent that the sanctity of the ballot is either threatened or assailed; if the administration of the law whether civil or criminal, becomes either lax or exceless; if the evils in any industrial movement manifest such power that they threaten monopoly or put popular rights in peril; if the evils in any industrial movement monopoly or put popular rights in peril; if the executive, the legislative, or the judicial branches of our system shall, either by design or accident, tend to trench unduly or dangerously upon the rights of any of the others—the one man who should resent and resist the dangers thus threatened, is the American lawyer. The traditions of his profession, the execution of the high trust confided to him, the example set by him by great leaders through many generations, all demand that he should exercise the greatest watchfulness and show the highest course." cago Beach hotel today on "The Lawyer

Induced the Warden to Buy Mines.

Promoted the Scheme While in Prison and Got the Money.

Now He Is Again Behind the Bars for Aiding in Looting of Bank

"To the credit of Francis L. Burton low under arrest in connection with the ooting of the Goldfield Bank and Trust company, is placed the boldest and most picturesque swindle ever perpetrated probably in the world," said a wellknown mining man to a Tribune representative last night. "While serving time in the Deer Island reformatory in Boston, Burton persuaded the warder and keepers of that institution to invest $15,000 in Colorado mines. These mines he promoted from within the prison walls. The warden frankly admitted, when the matter came to light, that he had been swindled smoothly and neatly.

Bank Held His Note. The announcement of Burton's arrest followed hard on the heels of the announcement of the failure of the Goldfield institution. J. B. Young president of the bank, was found in San Francisco, as was Burton. The latter had been allowed free access in securing loans from the institution. Among the papers discovered in the vaults of the bank was a $7000 note from Burton.

His Former Exploit

His Former Exploit. But all this is recent history. The story of Burton's most bizarre exploit is a little older. He went to New York according to court records, hird on the heels of a brawl in a Denver saloon. In this brawl his face and person were quite badly damaged. And a few days later the New York Central train on which Burton rode sought the ditch. It wasn't much of a wreck, but many were shaken badly. Burton promptly sued the company and got damages, alleging that he was thrown from his berth and injured.

Prosecution Followed.

"Investigation on the part of the rail-road company disclosed the fact that Burton got his fair aforesaid Then came prosecution. Burton was sentenced to eighteen months in the Deer Island reformatory in Boston. He went there and did his time. Promoted Scheme in Pen.

Promoted Scheme in Pen.

"But, doing his time, Burton was not idie. He behaved well, and made friends. Then he gained the good will of the prison officials. He told them of gold laden land in Colorado, to be bought for a song. Then he got their money for investment. There was some $15.000 of this. And so it came that Warden Gerrish of the reformatory subsequently said. That chap Burton was no ordinary worker. He could make one think black was white. A man of his kind is dangerous to have at large. If I knew as much about him then as I do now he would serve his full time—he would spend his life behind the bars if I could accomplish it.

Admitted He Was Swindled.

Admitted He Was Swindled.

"Gerrish said this in an admission that he was swindled. The Mining Investor of Colorado Springs published this story with the statement that Burton had gone to the Goldfield country. About the same time, Goldfield people learned that Burton had borrowed heavily from the new defunct bank. Some of them withdrew their deposits. The exodus of bank officials, discovery of ruin, and arrests, followed.

There Were Mines.

There Were Mines.

"In his interview Gerrish said the following, which is published in justice to Burion: There were really mines out there. I went to see them last September, three of them, the Kokono, Milton and Pioneer. These mines actually do exist, and show favorable prospects, according to mining papers. In whom the actual ownership is vested it does not seem possible at this time to learn. The mines are in the Clear Creek district, where Burton once was It is possible he may have had a bond on them at some time."

FROVO. Utab. May M.—Senator Smoot is much incensed over an article published in The Tribune of May M. In relation to his attitude on the electric light proposition. Mr. Smoot says he did not wish to convex the idea that it was a losing proposition. He said that he had never received any dividends, but all the esemings had been put into the system for improvements, and that Prove could not expect to get her lights for mothing, as Springville was soling.

The fact of the matter is, if there was a noin at that meeting who can tell anything about what Apoetle Smoot was trying to get at in his rambling, incoherent talk, he has not yet been found.

It was suggested to Aposile Smoot that a transcript of what he said would be published, but when the stemographer was seen and asked for a copt, he said his notes had passed into other hands and he had his money for them. When easied if that man was not an agent for Smoot, the reporter said he did not think he had anything to do with Smoot. The directors of the Gienwood Cemetery as esociation have made an agreement to compromise the suit brought agunist the association by Eliza Nelson for damages resulting from efforts made to procure water for the cemetery. Gienwood cemetery is owned jointly by the fraternal orders here and for years the water used in irrigating has been purchased from Mrs. Nelson. A short time ago the directors located a spring and ran a pipe line over part of Mrs. Nelson's ground. She immediately brought suit for £000 damages and asked for an order restraining the association from using the water claiming she had a prior right to it. The basis of settlement allows her £00 damages and £100 for the use of the water for one year. By this settlement the association leaves all title to the spring and the ledge members interested in the cometers are indigenant that the directors should be buildoxed into such a settlement. There is strong talk of independent action being taken to provent the classing of the agreement.

Unusual Opportunity for Investment,

Market Better and Stronger Than at Any Time for Many Years.

Californians Have Taken a Liking to Zion, and Are Buying Much

"Sait Lakers have at last awakened to the fact that their own city presents an unusual opportunity for investments in real estate," said W. J. Halloran, one of the city's most progressive agents and himself a heavy property holder, in the course of a conversation on business conditions yesterday. The market is better and stronger now than it has been better and stronger now than it has been at any time during the past fifteen years and while a number of large deals have, as you know, been concluded during the last few weeks, this marks only a be-ginning, and you can look forward to many of even greater magnitude in the near future.

Californian Interested.

"The city is to be congratulated," continued Mr. Halloran, "upon having interested, to a large extent Mr. Rowan of Los Angeles, He is without doubt the largest real estate operator upon the Pacific coast. He represents many of the heaviest investors of the West, and his own firm is rated at between $2,00,000 and $4,000,000. There is not the alightest doubt in my mind that we will see many striking improvements here this year."

Has Only Regum. Has Only Begun.

As has been published in The Tribune, Mr. Rowan has already purchased Sait Lake really of late to the value of more than $100.000, and it is stated upon good authority that himself and his firm have, so to speak, only begun to get interested in the opportunities offered here. Like State Street.

Like State Street.

The transfers made already this week show that investors have a high opinion of South State street property as affording assurances of first-class investments. Only a few days ago a fifty-foot frontage on State, between Third and Fourth South streets, changed hands at $36 per foot; on Wednesday forty-nine and a half feet on the west side of the street in the same location was taken for the same price, and late Thursday night Gus Holmes closed the deal selling the tract lying immediately north of the Knutsford hotel.

Several Transfers Pouls

Several Transfers Pending.

It is known that there are a number of transfers pending for some of the most valuable business property in the city, and viewing the situation from the most conservative standpoint, an immense amount of new capital will certainly come into Salt Lake City this year.
